Another Year Has Come and Gone!
Where Does the Time Go?

Well... the “Bulletin” is 4 years old this month! With this edition we begin the fifth year!

The first issue was September 1998. Who would have thought that the one-and-a-half page first edition would have grown into the “Beavercreek Bulletin” of today! Pretty amazing.

This would never have been possible if not for the support of businesses and individuals in the Beavercreek area community who have taken a chance on your tiny newsletter in our humble attempt to keep us all informed.

Small store front businesses and home occupation businesses do not have a mega budget for advertising. It is often difficult to get their business’ name out there where it can be seen by the people who would most likely do business with them, the members of their own community. To that end I hope we have been successful!

The “Bulletin” has continued to grow over the past 4 years and will hopefully continue with your support.

If there is anything that you would like to see in the paper or perhaps have suggestions, please feel free to E-mail or call me and let me know.

Call 503-632-6525 and leave a message or E-mail me at: b_bulletin.info@bctonline.com.  The Editor

This is Part III of a series of articles on the history of the Beavercreek area. Written by Jack Watts, whose family were some of the early settlers of the community. This history is reprinted from his original manuscript that had until now never been published, by permission of Gordon Watts. We dedicate this series to a man and his love of the Beavercreek countryside who took the time to stop, look, listen and capture for all, his remembrances. The Editor.

Still another use of the school building was for meetings of Central Grange No. 276 (now Beavercreek Grange No. 276), which met at the school until the Grange Hall was built.

Going to school was not taken as seriously then as now. It was no disgrace to be absent or tardy, as most children were obliged to stay out a great deal to help with farm work. Boys went to school until they were grown up, as they attended only for a while during bad winter weather. We were never graded and I can safely tell the younger generation about the good work I did in school as there is no danger of an embarrassing report card turning up to contradict me.

Children walked to school carrying their lunches in oblong metal boxes, in which smoking or chewing tobacco had once been packed. Their fathers, who smoked or chewed tobacco, gave the containers to their sons and daughters when the contents had been consumed, and the kids proudly carried them as lunch boxes. The off-spring of non-smokers usually carried their lunches in five pound lard pails with such worldly labels as "Swift's Premium Pure Leaf Lard," or perhaps in one used for "Jewel Shortening."

The children used trails through woods and fields, crossing creeks on downed logs. School buses came too late for some boys who attended high school in Oregon City. Bernhard Berg was a good example. He lived a good mile southeast of Massinger's Corner (the junction of the Upper Highland Road), and he walked from home to the depot of the Willamette Valley Southern Railway at Beaver Creek to catch the early morning train to Oregon City. He then had to walk from the Oregon City Station up the hill to the old High School (it was later a junior high school, and still later, razed). Bernhard engaged in some sports activities that required him to stay for practice after school hours. On those occasions it was necessary for him to walk all the way home, except for the times he was fortunate enough to catch a ride. There were others who, while not traveling that far, did walk considerable distances to catch the train. The three Kamrath boys come to mind as being some of them.

In 1875, when Mr. J. M. Ware, Mr. H.E. Roberts, and Mr. H.B. May were the Board of Directors and Mr. M. O. Gard was Clerk, the district was allotted $155.21, which was apportioned at the rate of $1.75 per pupil. By 1876-1877 the amount per child was raised to $1.87. During this time teachers were issued certificates for periods of three to six months to almost anyone thought to be capable of teaching. Teachers' examinations came in 1875, and certificates were then granted from six months to two years, based on their experience. It was not unusual to have several teachers during a school year.

Some of the pupils of the Beaver Creek School who made good in their respective fields were: the Rand brothers, Hal and Ernest, both of whom became engineers or surveyors having earned a reputation which ranked them among the best. In his youth, Jack Ware was truly "Peck's Bad Boy," who in school led a certain teacher who wore a beard on several merry chases. It seems that Jack even caused the Board of Directors to meet in special sessions to consider ways and means to restore some semblance of order to school procedure. Also, Jack's father was called to meet with the Board to enlist his cooperation, which was always forthcoming. But in adulthood, Jack became a Baptist Minister, was Pastor of the Oregon City Baptist Church for some time, and he, along with another minister, also conducted church services through much of rural Clackamas County in schools as well as churches. Mr. David May returned to teach school at Beaver Creek and served at least one term as Clackamas County School Superintendent; Mr. Carles Rutherford became a minister and served as a missionary in India for 35 years. Ada and Eva Moehnke became teachers and returned later to teach at Beaver Creek, and Dora Hughes went into a teaching career also. Miss Agnes Baty also taught here and some of her former pupils remember that she opened school with Bible reading and prayer; and later she married another former pupil, Mr. Chris Schubel, who became a very prominent attorney who practiced law in Oregon City for many years. Margaret Williams taught in Oregon City schools as well as in Portland. Miss Erana Bluhm also taught at Beaver Creek School.

One of the organizations that received tickets was Riverbend Youth Center. “The kids are really enjoying attending the Beaver Games and we truly appreciate BCT’s support and shared commitment to Riverbend kids,” said Vicki Smith, development director. Riverbend Youth Center has given hope and a helping hand to thousands of troubled teenagers and their families.

North Clackamas
Aquatic Park
Schedules Fourth
Annual Dog Daze
of Summer

Monday, Sept. 16th, marks the date for the fourth annual Dog Daze of Summer event at the North Clackamas Aquatic Park. Three sessions will be offered for the canine-only swim. With a cost of $5 per dog or $7 for multiple-dog families, the park is offering a fresh water session from noon to 2:00 p.m., semi-fresh water session from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. and a not-so-fresh water session from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. with a reduced rate of $4 per dog and $6 for multiple-dog families.

Dog Daze takes place the day before the Aquatic Park closes down for three weeks of annual maintenance. Pools are drained immediately after the dogs swim. The pools are cleaned, serviced and sanitized before being filled with 100-percent fresh water and re-chlorinated. The Clackamas County Public Health Department has determined that there are no significant health risks posed by allowing the dogs to swim in the facility.

Clackamas County Dog Control will be selling and renewing dog licenses during the event for $13 for spayed/neutered dogs and $25 for fertile dogs. A valid rabies certificate is required or a rabies deposit will be collected.

If you have an interest in becoming a table sponsor or would like your name added to the Dog Daze mailing list, contact Jennifer Post at jenniferp@co.clackamas.or.us. For more information: Jennifer Post at 503-794-8080.

Clackamas County to Place Community Safety Levy on November 5 Election

The Clackamas County Board of Commissioners has agreed to place a four-year community safety levy on the November 5th ballot. The proceeds will be used by the County Sheriff, Juvenile Department and Parole and Probation to maintain current levels of service and restore some reductions in services. The money would also provide funding to operate the jail at full capacity. The jail currently 'early releases' an average of about 400 to 500 inmates per month owing to jail overcrowding.

The levy would be paid by property owners at a rate of 49 cents per $1,000 in taxable assessed value. that amounts to approximately $86 a year for a $175,000 home. The levy request is a result of monetary shortfalls in the operation of the County's community safety and justice programs and is proposed at 10 cents per $1,000 less than the levy measure that voters did not approve in May's primary election. "Livability is one of the most important issues to our citizens," said Board Chair Commissioner Larry Sowa. "When our public safety system is under funded, that livability is threatened."

The Board of County Commissioners was expected to officially approve the proposed levy during its regularly scheduled meeting August 22nd in the Board Hearing Room at 906 Main St. in Oregon City. For more information, call Finance Director Marc Gonzales at 503-353-4345 or Commissioner Larry Sowa at 503-655-8581.

The August meeting of the Beavercreek CPO was held on Wednesday, August 28, 2002, at the Beavercreek Grange on Kamrath Rd. at 7:00 p.m. with 19 members and guests in attendance. There were more than the average amount of land issues to be dealt with this month.

After those were addressed the membership discussed the upcoming Urban Growth Boundary expansion and meetings that Metro will be holding in the next few months. There is a meeting scheduled for October 22, 2002, at Clackamas Community Colleges Gregory Forum. Map viewing will take place from 5:00 p.m. with the public hearing from 6:00 - 8:30 p.m. The residents of the Beavercreek area are encouraged to attend this meeting and talk to Metro about the proposed changes. There will be more information next month.

DO NOT MISS THE SEPTEMBER CPO MEETING

The scheduled speaker for the month of September is Mr. Ken Spiegel, Manager of the Clackamas County Community Environment Department. Mr Spiegel will be discussing County building codes and their enforcement.

Also scheduled to appear is Linda Preizs and others from County Planning to discuss the zoning of the areas that are recommended to go into the Urban Growth Boundary that lie within the boundaries of the Beavercreek CPO. The Clackamas County Board of Commissioners want to make sure that the proper criteria are in place for when the City of Oregon City moves their Urban Growth Boundary in the next 2-5 years. The land in question runs along Beavercreek Road to Henrici Rd. The and is already zoned... (Cont. Pg 13, Col 2 - CPO)

One Vehicle Accident on Carus Road

On the evening of June 21st 2002, at 1:34 p.m., one mile West of Hwy 213 a 1980 Toyota pickup driven by Shane Newhouse of Canby, OR missed a right-hand corner and ended up in the ditch, taking out about 20 feet of fence belonging to Rona Toman in the process. The responding Deputy noted that Mr. Newhouse’s vehicle left about 100 feet of skidmark before leaving the roadway. A citation for failure to drive within his lane was issued. Luckily Mr. Newhouse was not injured. He told authorities that he did not know how fast he was going, but realized he was going to fast just before the mishap.

DUII Citation Issued

Theron Shultz of Molalla, OR, age 24, was cited for a DUII on June 25, 2002, as a result of a one vehicle accident which occurred at the intersection of S. Buckner Creek Rd and Hidden Road at 10:55 p.m.

Mr Shultz nor his passenger was injured. Mr Shultz drove off the roadway into the trees crashing his 2000 Dodge Dakota pickup in the process.

The officer who responded to the accident noticed that Mr. Shultz was very excited and could not sit still. Mr. Shultz stated that he had not been drinking and that he had not taken any drugs or medication. He said that he had been followed by unknown individuals. Based on observations of Mr Shultz’s demeanor and other evidence the officer then took Mr Shultz into custody for a DUII. The case has been referred to the DA’s office.
